ChenTAC Chenango Threat
Advisory Committee WHO WE ARE

The formation of ChenTAC was established due to the ever-changing risks of targeted violence and mass shootings that society faces today. ChenTAC takes effective proactive and protective measures that are designed to prevent, not predict, potential acts of targeted violence and terrorism. Through identifying and managing potential threats, ChenTAC provides alternatives to investigation and/or prosecution for bystanders who are actively seeking intervention assistance with a known individual at risk of mobilizing to violence.

With the support of the Chenango County Sheriff's Office, ChenTAC is a multidisciplinary team comprised of businesses, schools and colleges, social service agencies, mental health professionals, faith based organizations, community resources and local and state law enforcement. Collectively, we convene as a confidential group to identify, assess and manage potential threats of targeted violence.

IMPORTANT DEFINITION

Targeted Violence is premeditated violence and is usually directed at a specific individual, group, or location. A perpetrator of targeted violence is typically responding to a perceived grievance or acting on behalf of a particular ideology. Targeted Violence is different from impulsive, reactive, or emotional acts of violence. Some examples of targeted violence are school shootings, workplace violence, domestic violence, stalking, and terroristic attacks.

WHEN TO CONTACT ChenTAC

If you become aware of someone exhibiting concerning behaviors, or threatening a person, group or entity, ChenTAC is available to help. Contact our report line at (607) 334-2000 or go to www.chenangocountyny.gov/271/ Sheriffs-Office and find the Submit A Crime tip button. If you have concerns of imminent danger, call 911 immediately.

See Something, Say Something YOUR ROLE IS IMPORTANT

ChenTAC is relying on you, our biggest asset, to help identify potential threats. Without participation from members of the public, we can not identify ways to assist those who need us or protect our community.

WINTER SPORTS

Many of our Chenango County high school sports teams and athletes have once again performed to an exceptional level during the 2024-2025 season. 2024-25

A season ago The Evening Sun published a five-section special insert that promoted our star athletes and teams who either reached a major milestone, won a championship or broke a school record within that respective sport.

In April, we will once again profile the best athletes and teams our County has to offer with our 2024-2025 Best of Chenango County Winter Sports!

The special section will include large color photos of our star athletes and teams as well as detailed summaries explaining extraordinary achievements along with quotes from our athletes and coaches.

This type of sports coverage can only be found at The Evening Sun and we take great pride in presenting this once-a-year publication that summarizes the best our winter sports has to offer.

Deadline: Tues., April 8

Friends of Rogers Expand Environmental Education Staff

Spring is a time of new beginnings. At Rogers Environmental Education Center in Sherburne, the education team welcomes two new faces: Erica Clark, Senior Environmental Educator, and Ariah Mitchell, Education and Communications Associate. Together they bring a dynamic mix of arts, science, and outdoor education experience to Rogers.

"There's a lot of merit to the educational prospects of art-science integration," Ariah stated. "I'm excited to create and lead new programs at Rogers where creative exploration is taught as a part of nature appreciation."

Erica and Ariah join Rogers as an exciting new chapter for environmental education begins in New York State. With increased funding available for school program transportation costs, directives from the governor to get offline and get outside, and new investments in New York's park system, the time is right to increase opportunities for environmental education at Rogers.

"I am passionate about nature, and getting people excited about exploring the outdoors through hands-on experiences. Working at Rogers gives me an opportunity to connect people of all ages with the natural world, and help them understand the importance of protecting it for the future," said Erica.

Springtime at Rogers also signifies the homecoming of a familiar, feathery face. "As we welcome Erica and Ariah to the Friends of Rogers team, we also welcome back the beloved unofficial mascot of Rogers Center, Buddy the Goose!" said David Carson, Executive Director. Buddy has returned from his mysterious winter sabbatical and is back to making noise and making friends with the Canada geese in Channels Marsh.

Inquires for school programs, public programs, and volunteer educator opportunities can be sent directly to Erica at erica@friendsofrogers.org.

The mission of the Friends of Rogers is to provide outstanding educational opportunities that excite, inspire, and motivate people of all ages to enjoy, understand, appreciate, and protect our natural environment. ►

TAX GUIDE

THE RIGHT TO RETAIN REPRESENTATION

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights is a cornerstone document that highlights the 10 fundamental rights taxpayers have when dealing with the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS wants every taxpayer to be aware of these rights in the event they need to work with the IRS on a personal tax matter. The IRS continues to publicly highlight these rights to taxpayers. The IRS also regularly reminds its employees about these rights. The IRS expects employees to understand and apply taxpayer rights throughout every encounter with taxpayers.

IRS Publication 1, Your Rights as a Taxpayer, includes a full list of taxpayers' rights. It includes The Right to Retain Representation.

Taxpayers have the right to retain an authorized representative of their choice to represent them in their dealings with the IRS. Taxpayers have the right to seek assistance from a Low Income Taxpayer Clinic if they cannot afford representation.

What you can expect:

- You may select a person, such as an attorney, certified public accountant or enrolled agent to represent you in an interview with the IRS. You do not have to attend with your representative unless the IRS formally summons you to appear.
- In most situations, the IRS must suspend an interview if you request to consult with a representative, such as an attorney, CPA or enrolled agent.
- You may have any attorney, CPA, enrolled agent, enrolled actuary, or any other person allowed to represent taxpayers before the IRS submit a written power of attorney to represent you. The person must not be disbarred or suspended from practice before the IRS.
- If your income is below a certain level, you may ask a Low Income Taxpayer Clinic to represent you in your tax dispute before the IRS or a federal court. The services are free or for a minimal fee.

Many LITCs offer services in languages other than English. Although LITCs get partial funding from the IRS, LITCs, their employees and their volunteers are independent of the IRS.

To find out more about the TBOR and what it means to you visit the Taxpayer Advocate Service's website.

By making this important publication available in multiple languages, the IRS hopes to increase the number of Americans who know and understand their rights under the tax law. The IRS has more tax information in other languages too. See the "Languages" menu at the top of any IRS.gov page.

The IRS also is committed to protecting taxpayers' civil rights. The IRS will not tolerate discrimination based on age, color, disability, race, reprisal, national origin, English proficiency, religion, sex, sexual orientation or status as a parent. This includes any contact with IRS employees and the staff or volunteers at community sites.

If a taxpayer faces discrimination, they can send a written complaint PDF to the IRS Civil Rights Division.

THE RIGHT TO QUALITY SERVICE

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights is a cornerstone document that highlights the 10 fundamental rights taxpayers have when dealing with the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS wants every taxpayer to be aware of these rights in the event they need to work with the IRS on a personal tax matter. The IRS continues to publicly highlight these rights to taxpayers. The IRS also regularly reminds its employees about these rights. The IRS expects employees to understand and apply taxpayer rights throughout every encounter with taxpayers.

IRS Publication 1, Your Rights as a Taxpayer, includes a full list of taxpayers' rights. It includes The Right to Quality Service.

Taxpayers have the right to receive prompt, courteous, and professional assistance in their dealings with the IRS, to be spoken to in a way they can easily understand, to receive clear and easily understandable communications from the IRS, and to speak to a supervisor about inadequate service.

What you can expect:

- You can find answers to most tax questions on IRS.gov. If you cannot find an answer to your tax issue on the IRS website or in published instructions, please contact the IRS for help. IRS representatives care about the quality of the service provided to you and are available to help. Here are some things to consider when contacting the IRS.

- The IRS provides a contact phone number on the top right corner of the notice or letter.
- IRS representatives should listen objectively and consider all relevant information.
- They should answer questions promptly, accurately and thoroughly.

Generally, you can speak to an employee's supervisor if you have a problem.

When collecting tax, the IRS should treat you with courtesy. Generally, the IRS should only contact you between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. The IRS should not contact you at your place of employment if the IRS knows or has reason to know that your employer does not allow such contacts. Be mindful of tax scams. Remember, the IRS does not make aggressive phone calls that threaten arrest or prison.

The IRS must include information about your right to get help from the Taxpayer Advocate Service in all statutory notices of deficiency. It should tell you how to contact TAS.

If you are eligible for Low Income Taxpayer Clinic (LITC) assistance, the IRS may provide information about your options for legal help.

To find out more about the TBOR and what it means to you visit the Taxpayer Advocate Service's website.

By making this important publication available in multiple languages, the IRS hopes to increase the number of Americans who know and understand their rights under the tax law. The IRS has more tax information in other languages too. See the "Languages" menu at the top of any IRS.gov page.

CAR CARE

WHAT NOISY BRAKES MAY BE TELLING YOU

The only noises many drivers ever want to hear coming from their vehicles are the sounds of their favorite songs blasting from their car stereos. But cars sometimes make noises that aren't nearly as inviting as music. Noises that seem to pop up when applying the brakes can be especially scary for motorists. No one wants to drive a vehicle with faltering or suspect brakes, so learning to distinguish between the two most common brake noises can be a wise move for drivers.

Grinding brakes

That grinding noises indicate a serious problem with the braking system. There are two major causes behind the grinding noise made by brakes. If the grinding sound is audible when pressing on the brake pedal, this likely because the rotor disc is coming into contact with part of the caliper. This typically occurs because the brake pads or rotors are extremely worn down, causing the steel backing of the worn out pad to grind against the rotor. In such instances, mechanics recommend replacing the brake pads immediately.

If the grinding noise is audible while the vehicle is in motion, debris might be stuck inside the brakes. Drivers might be able to dislodge this debris by repeatedly moving their cars forward and backward in a safe place, such as a driveway. If that does not work, have the brakes serviced by a qualified mechanic.

Squealing
Many drivers are familiar with the high-pitched squealing sound that comes from their vehicles or those of fellow motorists. That squeal, while certainly not music to the ears, might be a good thing. Some brake pads are equipped with small steel clips that serve as wear indicators. When brake pads have worn down, these devices produce a squealing sound to let drivers know it's time to get new brake pads. But squealing can be indicative of other things as well. Squealing noises are sometimes heard immediately after brake pads or rotors have been replaced. In such instances, the noise typically subsides within a day or two once the pads have been broken in.

Glazed pads also can create a squealing sound. When calipers stick, the brakes stay partially applied, producing excessive friction or heat. The heat causes the brake pads to glaze.

No one wants to hear noises coming from their brakes. However, such noises are often a car's way of telling drivers that brakes need to be serviced. SC203719

LOOKING FOR AN AFFORDABLE USED CAR?

SICK OF BUYING rusty junk off of an individual or online and then spending more than you paid for it trying to get it functional or to pass inspection? At Central Auto Sales I take pride in buying quality cars that are still in excellent condition that can supply you with many miles of service in the future. I typically buy my cars from states south of NY to avoid the rust associated with local cars. I have a nice selection of cars in the affordable $4-6K range, most are low miles or low miles for the age. I'm a lifetime resident of Norwich. Buy from someone local. No pressure, no fancy hype, just quality cars at fair prices! Central Auto Sales LLC, 429 Manley Road, Norwich. www.centralautosalesllc.com 607-336-6371.
